

Une présentation météo

For this presentation, you will work with a partner to create a video weather report for a news channel.

Together, you will:

- pick a country in the world, and then choose 4 cities within this country.
- pick a specific time of year and research typical weather phenomena.
- write a report for one day in this country.
- make a video to present the forecast and a field report

The news anchor will describe the weather for the first 3 cities, and then 'cut' to the field. The field reporter will describe their location (last city) and the current weather.

To make your video, you will learn how to use a green screen. You will need to make two separate scenes :

- One that includes a map of the country, the names of each city for your report and weather symbols for each location.
- An other one for the fieldtrip reporter.
